Monex USA and Payall Announce referral Partnership on Global B2B Payments

WASHINGTON, DC – February 4, 2025 – Payall is excited to announce a new referral partnership with Monex USA, a leading provider of international payments, corporate FX, and currency risk hedging services. This collaboration through a combination of technological solutions and the use of Payall and Monex robust platforms will facilitate financial institutions to ease the processing of payments and FX transactions for the benefit of their end customers.

"Financial institution customers expect fast, reliable, transparent, and fairly priced cross-border payments and transfers," noted Gary Palmer, President & CEO of Payall. "We help financial institutions meet these expectations with Monex and our white-label UX/UI, TreasuryPay™ back-office app, easy core integration, as well as specialty digital risk management and compliance capabilities. Together, Payall and Monex overcome risk and compliance as well as cost, technology, global currency availability, and forex barriers to make it easy for financial institutions to offer best-in-class global P2P and B2X product experiences for a wide range of use cases."

"This partnership highlights Monex's dedication to empowering financial institutions with the tools they need to succeed. We're delivering a powerful competitive advantage by combining Monex's industry-leading foreign exchange and cross-border payment solutions with Payall's innovative, client-focused platform. Together, we're enabling financial institutions to meet their customers' needs with greater speed, transparency, and efficiency—key drivers for growth in today's rapidly evolving payments landscape," said Mike Valadakis, VP of Partnerships at Monex USA.
