Monex USA Announces Partnership with Billtrader to Power Global IP Payments

NEW YORK, NY – October 21, 2025 – Monex USA, a leading provider of international payments, corporate FX, and currency risk hedging services, today announced a strategic partnership with Billtrader, the global payments platform purpose-built for Intellectual Property (IP) firms.

This collaboration leverages Billtrader's customised technology, receivables funding solutions, and deep integrations with the accounting systems of IP law firms, and Monex's global buying power, scale, and expertise in the US Market to simplify complex cross-border receivables and payables, deliver faster settlements, and provide IP firms with greater financial flexibility.

"At Monex USA, we're committed to working with industry specialists to deliver tailored payment solutions to niche but highly significant markets," said Mike Valadakis, VP of Partnerships and Digital Markets at Monex USA. "Through our partnership with Billtrader, we're able to deliver payment solutions that are seamless, modern, and scalable directly to the IP sector. Billtrader's deep expertise in IP law and sophisticated integrations make them the ideal partner for extending Monex's capabilities to this unique and important market."

"Billtrader was created to solve the unique payment challenges of IP firms, and everything we do is purpose-built for this industry," said David Madigan, CEO of Billtrader. "Our customised technology and complex integrations embed directly into the systems firms already use, while our receivables funding capability unlocks working capital that supports growth for clients. By combining our expertise in the IP Law sector with the scale and expertise of Monex USA, we're supporting our clients worldwide and accelerating our expanding US footprint."
